

YEAR 6 (11.02.16)

As part of our study of Ancient Greece, Year Six attended school in Ancient Greek costume in order to take part in the English Martyrs Olympics! The children competed in city states, first composing a piece of music for the opening ceremony, before writing a declaration to the god Zeus. The opening ceremony was hosted by Zeus himself (Mr 'Toga' Bromage), who enjoyed the children's performances, before the games commenced with chariot racing, javelin throwing and the marathon. Following the games, the children calculated average distances and speeds, before writing newspaper articles about the day's events. We finished by painting our Ancient Greek temples.
